Bokashi Bucket
- Kitchen Compost Kit with Bran

A revolutionary fermentation process that turns your kitchen waste into a rich soil conditioner.
The Bokashi Bucket is a practical and convenient alternative for transforming kitchen waste into a nutrient rich soil conditioner.
This unique composting system uses the revolutionary EM (Effective Micro-Organism) Bokashi to create the ideal conditions for airtight (anaerobic) composting.
Great for houses, the eco-friendly Bokashi Bucket and EM Bokashi eliminate the odours and unpleasantness associated with putrefaction and decay.
You can compost almost every kitchen food waste in your Bokashi Bucket including fruit and vegetables, prepared foods, cooked and uncooked meats and fish, cheese, eggs, bread, coffee grinds, tea bags, wilted flowers and tissues.

Kit includes: 1 x black Bokashi Bucket & a 1kg bag of EM Bokashi

Bamboo Eco Towels

Perfect for you and your family!

Beautiful to touch: Fabric from bamboo fibre is softer than cotton, feels similar to silk or cashmere and has a beautiful sheen.

Keeps you dry: Bamboo is the fastest growing plant in the world because of its extraordinary water absorbency. Subsequently, bamboo has natural “wicking” properties meaning that it absorbs and evaporates moisture very quickly.

Anti-bacterial: Even after 50 washes, bamboo fibre fabric has a 70% elimination rate when incubated with bacteria – this natural anti-bacterial function along with the excellent permeability and evaporation of moisture makes bamboo apparel more odour-free.

Great for sensitive skin: People with allergies and sensitive skin love bamboo for two reasons. Firstly, when bamboo is grown no pesticides or chemicals are used thanks to the anti-bacterial property we previously mentioned. Secondly, the fabric itself is also incredibly smooth and won't be rough and irritable on your skin.

Perfect for the environment!

No pesticides or fertilizers are used in its growth: Compare this to cotton which uses approximately 25% of the world's fertilizers and insecticides.

It is 100% biodegradable and non-toxic: As a natural cellulose fibre, bamboo is 100% biodegradable and the decomposition process does not cause any pollution to the environment. This is especially important because a lot of things will claim to be biodegradable, but they may still leave harmful toxins in the ground.

More bamboo clothing means a healthier planet: Bamboo is the Earth's most sustainable plant; needs no replanting and grows without fertilizers or pesticides. It also releases 35% more oxygen than equivalent stands of trees.

Bamboo improves soil quality: It's the fastest growing plant in the world and spreads very fast. It is nutrient rich, and that's good news for the soil.

Gift Towel Set includes:

2 x bath towel (70cm x 140cm) & 1 x hand towel (34cm x 76cm)
Available in Moss Green, Latte & Light Cream

Similar to soap, when the shells of the soapnut come in contact with water the saponin is released and suds are produced - these are excellent for cleaning laundry and leaving it beautifully soft. Just pop 6-8 shells into a cotton bag (provided) and place in your washing machine. They clean effectively however will not fragrance your laundry. If you prefer a fragrance use a couple of drops of essential oils either directly onto the nuts or in the dispenser drawer (front load). |
